College parking on Devon Road and Rear Parking Courts

You may recall consultation letters sent to you in July and October this year on college parking on Devon Road. The college opened in September and it has become clear that an on-street parking problem is occurring on Devon Road and is being created by college traffic.

The earlier consultations mentioned proposals to place a continuous yellow line parking restriction on each side of Devon Road from the college access as far as Earn Court. No-one, except Blue Badge Holders, would have been able to park at the roadside between 9am and 5pm, Monday to Friday along this length of Devon Road.

During the latest consultation some residents expressed concerns that if a continuous yellow line were placed on this part of Devon Road this might increase college parking within the rear parking courts here, even though we have erected signs to dissuade this. In view of these concerns we have decided to revise the proposal and allow some parking on Devon Road, but also to place short sections of yellow line where vehicles can pull in to allow others to pass. These sections of yellow line will still also allow space for Blue Badge Holders to park when required. This scheme is detailed on the plan overleaf.
